

Satu Kajander-Unkuri, RN, PhD

Satu Kajander-Unkuri, RN, PhD is a post doc researcher at the University of Turku, Finland, and she currently works as a principal lecturer in Diaconia University of Applied Sciences, Helsinki, Finland. Satu's PhD study (University of Turku, 2015) focused on the nurse competence of graduating nursing students and factors related to it. Currently, she leads a research project in the University of Turku (Department of Nursing Science), which is focused on competence of nursing students at graduation and in early years of practice in six European countries. Satu has published several high-quality research articles with her research partners. More information of the research project and publications <https://sites.utu.fi/nursingscienceresearchprogrammes/pedagogic/> > Competence of nursing students in Europe, COMPEUnurse. Satu has also led an expert group to the behalf of the Nursing Research Foundation (Finland). The expert group produced a national clinical guideline "Maintenance of normothermia in adult patients during the perioperative care process".